“I care about the smiles, the furrowed eyebrows and most of all the nodding of the head. Understanding. Connections. Let’s rewind a bit. I’m a senior, and this is my first year in the Law & Justice Academy. I am also a new student at Deer Valley High School. When I got home at 8:20 on Tuesday night, I felt... different. I felt a change. I don’t know what it is yet, but I love this feeling—I really do.”

“The dedication people were showing was outstanding. It really made the academy feel more connected—much more like a community than the past two years. It’s really starting to feel like we’re a family. I have never been more proud to be a part of something than this academy.”

—Gabriela Ambriz, Junior

“Preparation for this final product was mixed into each of our Law and Justice classes as a cross-curricular project. In English, we researched the proposition or candidate, compile a works cited and focus on our assigned topic. In Government, we watched, as well as analyzed the Presidential Debates, analyzed current events occurring within the election, as well as a current event based on our mock election guide. Social Justice mainly focused on the Death Penalty and how the results of the election could change the entire process.”

“In all truthfulness, when I received my topic, I had never heard of California’s redistricting. When I presented, many admitted much the same about their own knowledge of the proposition. We both left the project as better voters, better citizens and better people. “
